

Summary - Material Status Indication

Dedicated Status Locations for Rejected, Recalled, or Quarantine-HOLD Materials should be used in addition to the use of status labels on each container, and if not bounded by permanent walls, the areas must:

- Be clearly defined by signs;
- Be bounded by colored lines or chains (e.g., supported by wall hooks or portable stanchions), or by colored netting or tarpaulins that cover the material;
- Exclude material of any status other than that designated; and
- Be separated from other status-designated areas by at least one pallet width; or
- If space limitations prohibit the pallet-width separation, barriers must be used that physically prevent movement of any containers into or out of the dedicated area.

Read More